Hiking

Truckee

1. Tompkins Memorial Trail

Distance: Various Loops

Difficult: Easy

The trailhead for this footpath is located near Big Springs Dr. The trail is visibly marked with map of trail system. The trails cover flat meadows and gentle hills and offer a diversity of nature-viewing opportunities through Martis Valley.

2. Mt. Judah

Distance: 4.8 mile loop

Difficulty: Intermediate

Take Old Highway 40 to the trailhead for the Pacific Crest Trail. Follow signs along the trail for Mt. Judah. Enjoy this shaded hike to the top of Mt. Judah, with gorgeous wildflowers in early summer.

3. Castle Peak Trail

Distance: 6 miles round trip

Difficulty: Hard

From Interstate 80, take the Boreal exit and park on the right. This is one of the easier peaks to hike in the Tahoe area. Hike over to Andesite Peak or Basin Peak if you have extra time!

4. Sagehen Creek Trail

Distance: 4.5 mile loop

Difficulty: Easy

Just a few miles north on Highway 89, this popular trail is great for all levels. Follow Sagehen Creek to Stampede Reservoir. Enjoy wildflowers in early summer and end with a jump in the lake!

North Shore

1. Spur Trail

Distance: 3.2 miles round trip

Difficulty: Intermediate

Park on Highway 267 in the large parking lot about 0.5 miles south of Brockway Summit. Follow the Tahoe Rim Trail signs for about a mile. Turn left on Spur Trail View. In about 0.5 miles enjoy beautiful views of Lake Tahoe from 'Picnic Rock'.

2. Martis Peak

Distance: 8 miles one-way

Difficulty: Intermediate

Take Highway 267 south. Just before the summit turn left onto a Forest Service road. Follow this road a few miles to a small parking area and Forest Service gate. It is only a short uphill walk from here to the lookout. For those who prefer human power, the Tahoe Rim Trail offers a steep five-mile path to the lookout. Enjoy spectacular views of Lake Tahoe and the High Sierra.

3. Mt. Rose

Distance: 10.7 miles round trip

Difficulty: Hard

From Incline Village take Highway 431 to the Mt. Rose summit. Park in the parking lot on the left. This out-and-back trail features a waterfall and gorgeous wildflowers in early summer. This challenging hike is worth the views of Lake Tahoe from the summit.

4. Tahoe Rim Trail

The Tahoe Rim trail is a 165 mile trail that loops around Lake Tahoe. Various trailheads allows for out-and-back hikes. Follow directions for Spur Trail to hike the Brockway Summit portion of the trail.

5. Shirley Lake

Distance: 5 miles round trip

Difficulty: Intermediate

This trailhead is located off of Squaw Valley Rd at the base of Squaw Valley. Hike along gorgeous waterfalls and canyon boulders. Hike back down for an out-and-back adventure or take the tram down from High Camp.

East Shore/West Shore/South Shore

1. Marlette Lake

Distance: 10 miles round trip

Difficulty: Intermediate

Park at the Spooner Lake Trailhead on the East Shore of Lake Tahoe. This moderate uphill hike ends at Marlette Lake. This Lake is a fish hatchery so no fishing is allowed. A great fall hike to see the changing leaves of the aspens lining the east side of the lake.

2. Eagle Falls/Eagle Lake

Distance: 2 miles round trip

Difficulty: Easy/Moderate

Leading into the heart of Desolation Wilderness, this steep trail offers majestic views. It is a short hike to Eagle Lake. A longer hike will lead to Velma Lakes and Fontanilis Lakes. Be sure to stop along the way to the Lake to view Eagle Falls.

3. Rubicon Trail

Distance: 5 miles one-way

Difficulty: Easy

Dipping up and down the shoreline of Lake Tahoe, this trail offers some of the most scenic views of the lake. Hike out and back from the parking lot at D.L. Bill State Park, or shuttle a car to the Emerald Bay Parking Lot for a shorter, one-way hike.

4. Mt. Tallac

Distance: 10.2 mile round trip

Difficulty: Hard

Take Highway 89 south and turn right on Mt. Tallac Road. Park and be sure to fill out your wilderness permit. Mt. Tallac is the tallest peak in the Tahoe basin. The trail brings you along alpine lakes and scenic ridgelines. The 3,500 elevation gain is well worth the views of Lake Tahoe.
